

The President Says:

Not a day passes without the President being called upon to recommend, or decline to recommend, some former student for employment. He must rely partly at least on the record which the student made while here and which is in the Registrar's office. Many do not realize the importance of the records they make. A "drop" (D) with the reason for the drop may be explained, but the carelessness which causes a student to get an "F" because he did not take the trouble to file a drop card, is hard to overlook.

The comments which faculty members make about the effort the student puts forth, his willingness to work, his attention to assigned tasks, his attitude toward life and its problems, his sense of humor, his care of his person, and his consideration of others, mean more than the actual grade given at the end of a quarter.

But it is all part of the record which helps to form opinions on which recommendations are made. "Keep the record clean."

President

Entertainments Offered This Year Include Wide and Selected Variety

Kansas City Philharmonic Opens Season; Bali-Java Dancers Close It.

The series of entertainments which is presented annually by the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College has never been so rich or so varied as that planned for this year 1941-42. The opening event will be a fall concert by the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra of eighty players, with Karl Krueger conducting, on the evening of Tuesday, November 18. Mr. Krueger is now beginning his ninth season with the Kansas City orchestra. He is the only American born conductor of one of the major orchestras in the country.

Tuesday evening, January 6, 1942, Larra Browning, beautiful young soprano of New York, the quality of whose voice and musicianship has evoked the enthusiastic applause of musicians, will be presented in concert.

Wednesday evening, January 28, Max Lerner, nationally known author and lecturer, will speak on the subject "The Peace After the War." Dr. Lerner, who was the director of the Encyclopedia of Social Studies and for a number of years editor of The Nation, is a figure of international importance. Two of his recent books have attracted particular attention: Ideas Are Weapons, and It Is Later Than You Think, the latter being described as "the most profound and penetrating analysis of the position and prospects of democracy that has come from an American during the last decade."

February 27, the Chekhov players, under the direction of Michael Chekhov, nephew of the playwright, Anton Chekhov, Actor-member of the Moscow Art Theater, will present the Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night." Robert Coleman says of this performance in the New York Mirror: "Chekhov and his associates have captured their youthful players to school the ribaldry, the buoyant buffoonery, the racy fun that Shakespeare envisioned. 'Twelfth Night' is a masterpiece of slapstick."

The final number of the year's series will be presented in the week of April 12, 1942, the Bali-Java dancers, with Devi Dja as premiere danseuse, featuring the exotic dancers of Bali, Java, and Sumatra. The background for the dancers will be their own melodious gamelan music. Decor and costumes have been described as dazzling in their vivid richness.

The admission to each entertainment of the series is $1.00, but a special season ticket to the five is being offered for $3.00. Reservations for seats may be made singly for 25c or reservations may be made for the series for $1.25. Tickets may be had after November 11 at Kuehn Bros. Jewelry Store, or by writing Miss Helen Kramer, director of publicity, Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

Directory Containing Addresses Is Released

The Student-Faculty Directory was released earlier in the week. This work, published by the Young Men's Christian Association, contains the names and addresses of all College students and faculty. The present issue is the ninth to be printed.

The Directory may be secured from Marion Moyes for as long as they last.

Ed Infill, Parker Ward, and John Rudolph spent the week-end at their homes in Atchison, Kansas.

New Quad Council Has First Meeting

Mayor Jack Padilla Names Several Committees to Handle Problems.

The first meeting of the newly formed Quad Council was held Monday night in Mr. Lon E. Wilson's office with Mayor Jack Padilla presiding. For the most part, the meeting was devoted to a discussion of problems concerning table etiquette, cleanliness of sleeping quarters, and the provision of recreational facilities.

Three committees were appointed by Mayor Padilla during the course of the meeting, a rules of etiquette committee, composed of Bill Bennett and Wendell Sherman; an appropriations committee, composed of Andy Johnson and Dudley Johnson; and a seating arrangements committee, composed of Paul Gates and Jack Padilla.

Mr. Padilla stressed the importance of informality in the meeting and in future meetings when he said, "There will be nothing formal about any of our meetings. We are here just to discuss those problems which arise and to help all the fellows here to better themselves."

All the representatives attended the meeting with the exception of Andy Johnson from Dormitory Number Three, who was playing an engagement with the college dance orchestra. Those who attended were, in addition to Padilla, Wendell Sherman and Dudley Johnson, representing Dormitory Number One; Bill Bennett and Paul Gates, representing Dormitory Number Two; and Paul Wilson, representing Dormitory Number Three.

Prior to the council meeting an election was held in Dormitory Number One to elect a representative to replace Wayne Milligan, who had resigned his position. In this election Wendell Sherman was elected to the post by a large majority of votes.

Dr. Dow to Washington
Dr. Blanche H. Dow will attend a meeting of the National Committee of Membership and Maintaining Standards of the American Association of University Women. Dr. Dow will be in Washington, D. C., from October 31 through November 1, 2, and 3 to attend the meeting.

Albert Owens Is Killed in Plane Accident in West

Former Student Is Given Military Funeral at His Home in Hopkins.

A military funeral held in Hopkins on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock was the honor paid to Albert Owens, a former student of the College and former member of the CPT program here. His fellow students attended and paid tribute to one for whom they had high regard.

"He was a quiet fellow, and such a good chap," said a former roommate of his. The remark is typical of those made upon the campus since the news of the sudden death of the young man reached the College.

Albert Owens was killed Thursday when the plane in which he was riding crashed into a cotton field. He was riding with an instructor when the plane crashed near Sharfer, California.

Albert Owens was a student at the College from 1938 until 1941. He majored in commerce. He finished his primary course in flying at the Maryville School of Aeronautics in June and immediately enlisted in the air corps at Lerdo air training base at Bakersfield, California. He was a member of the air corps at Bakersfield at the time of his death.

Mrs. Baker Gives Aged Encyclopedia to Library

"Whenever I hear of anyone who has a book which might be valuable for our library, I go after it," said Mr. C. E. Wells. In this way Mr. Wells, college librarian, has added some interesting books to the library.

One of the most recent additions is a seven volume set of Chambers' Encyclopedia given to the college library by Mrs. Dan R. Baker, 604 West Third Street. The books were the property of her father, Captain Leonidas H. Cass.

The books are worthwhile because of the fact that they are a good example of the type of encyclopedia which was written half a century ago. According to the authors, the book was to be "A Dictionary of Universal Knowledge for the People with Maps and Wood Engravings."

They first planned make a translation from the German Conversations-Lexicon, but after "some time had been spent in translating," to quote, "the task of adapting the information to English requirements was found so difficult, that the resolution was taken to bring out a substantially new work, following in its construction the admirable plan of the Conversations-Lexicon, but making use of its valuable matter, only so far as it might be found suitable."

The employment of illustrative engravings and maps is another feature in which the present work differs from the German, the authors state. A comparison of this encyclopedia with the latest Britannica would be an interesting study.

Engineers Develop New Glider at University

MINNEAPOLIS, MINNESOTA.—(ACP)—Something new in gliders has been developed at the University of Minnesota. It is the product of a Northwest Airlines engineer's designing and the tireless efforts of a crew of university students. NX34222 is the only name the new glider has. It will remain unchristened until after it has passed federal tests. It weighs a scant 500 pounds, takes off and lands at 30 miles an hour, has reached 75 miles an hour in a dive and is expected to go faster in later tests. The designs of the glider is owned by the University Flying Club. If later tests bear out the excellent performance of the primary flights, chances are good it will become popular throughout the glider-flying world.

NX34222 differs from ordinary commercial gliders in three respects: 1. It has two seats instead of one, each with a complete set of controls permitting first-hand instruction. 2. It is rugged enough to stand student training abuse. 3. It has given high performance in maneuvers and has sufficient strength to permit towing behind an airplane.

ALBERT OWENS

Sunday Morning Speaker Will Be Dr. Blumenthal

His Subject, "The One- Tenth," Will Deal With Negro Question.

The next Sunday Morning Hour promises to be a very interesting meeting. Its theme, entitled "The One Tenth," will deal with the negro problem to-day.

Dr. Blumenthal who will speak at the meeting has chosen as his topic "The Status of the Negro in Present Day Society." In his talk he will compare the opportunities of negro youth today with those of the white youth. Music for the hour will consist of negro spirituals and numbers by negro composers.

The Sunday Morning Hour for last week bore the title, "The Touch of the Master's Hand." Herschel Bryant read a poem by this name and introduced the speakers of the morning.

Franklin Ewing spoke on "An Ill-Wrought Society," while Vernelle Bauer spoke on "For A More Perfect Society."

The speakers emphasized the fact that though the poverty stricken are now forgotten and bear the brunt of society's errors, through faith they may receive courage.

Forty Young Men Enroll in Class

Out-of-School Program Is Under Direction of Mr. Valk.

The first classes in the new out-of-school youth program of education were held in the industrial arts building on the College campus with more than forty enrolled. The classes are being conducted under the supervision of D. N. Valk, chairman of the industrial arts department at the College.

The class in general metal work is conducted by Jewell Myers and David Crozier, industrial arts instructors at the College. This course includes working in hot and cold metals, forging, sheet metal, lathe and machine operations.

The classes in auto and tractor mechanics (in two groups) are in charge of F. Ted Adkins, who is in charge of the college auto mechanic work, and R. W. Harrington, mechanic at the Moore Body Works shop. This course consists of automobile and tractor servicing and repair.

Classes will meet from 7 to 11 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings and from 7 to 10 o'clock on Friday evenings. The courses are open to youths from 17 to 24 years old, inclusive, who are not in school, and are being offered at no cost to the student. There is no limit to the number who may enroll, Mr. Valk said today, and any other young men who are eligible for the classes and have not yet enrolled may do so this week.

Because of the availability of its equipment, the college industrial arts department was asked by the state department of vocational education to ascertain if there would be sufficient interest in such classes in this area. The large enrollment at the original meeting last week was evidence of the interest shown.

Teacher Placement Committee Gives Summary of Work

More Calls for Teachers Come Than Committee Is Able to Answer.

Tabulation of figures in the office of the Teacher Placement Committee for the year ending in October 1941 show that the year has been an extremely successful one. Placement of those desiring positions was one hundred percent.

The committee last year was headed by Mr. Homer T. Phillips. Beginning this fall, Mr. Hubert Garrett is chairman, Mr. Phillips devoting more of his time to the teaching of courses in Education. Serving with Mr. Garrett are Mr. Phillips and Mr. A. H. Cooper, with the help of all of the faculty.

From October 1940 to the present, the committee has had a total of 1,348 calls for teachers. Of this number the committee had to report that it had nobody to recommend for 720 of the places. Recommendations were made for 628 positions, and 354 placements were made.

Of the number of placements made, the committee reports the appointment of 15 superintendents, 3 principals, 188 high school teachers, 16 junior high school teachers, 31 intermediate teachers, 52 kindergarten and primary teachers, and 51 rural teachers.

An analysis of the calls made for teachers reveals that 62 were calls for commerce teachers, 43 for physical education, 16 for mathematics, 14 each for English and social science, 13 for science, 11 for home economics, 3 for fine arts, and 1 for speech. All of these calls were for teachers of male subjects.

Many calls were made for combinations of two or more subjects. Sixty calls were for an English-music combination, 37 for mathematics and science, 37 for social science and physical education, 32 for home economics and English, 28 for commerce and music, 32 for commerce and English. Many other combinations were in demand.

Missouri ranked highest in number of calls made for teachers, with a total of 863; Iowa was second, with 411 calls; Kansas asked for 43 teachers, Illinois and Wyoming 10 each, Nebraska 3, Georgia and South Dakota 2 each, and Tennessee, Minnesota, Oklahoma, and Arkansas 1 each.

The services of the Teacher Placement Committee are available to all students in the College and to all former students and graduates of the College who have paid alumni dues and who have recommendations on file.

Gaylord Jensen Takes Prize Calves to Royal

Gaylord Jensen, a vocational agriculture student of the Horace Mann high school, took two calves to the American Royal this week. A Hereford and an Angus. Both calves were rated the best in the vocational division in the State of Missouri. However, they were defeated by an Oklahoma steer in both cases.

The Angus calf which won the rating was born and raised here on the College farm. Mr. Jensen purchased it when it weighed two hundred and seventy five pounds for the sum of sixty dollars. The calf now weighs nine hundred and forty pounds. Both calves will be sold today.

Students Visit Royal
Forty Vocational Agriculture students from the Horace Mann High School spent Tuesday at the American Royal in Kansas City. They observed in particular the judging of sheep and hogs.

Marlene and Bill Osburn spent the week-end at their home in Craig.

Autumn Leaves

Every fall the leaves on most trees change from green to brilliant colors. This is not an unusual occurrence. Most people who are conscious of nature at all notice the beauty of the trees when they have acquired these striking colors, but few of them consider or question the cause of this natural process.

The common belief is that frost causes leaves to change color, but this is not true. This belief is disproved by observing the trees on the College campus. They are changing color, but there has not yet been a frost. Frost and cold weather are really harmful to the development of color.

Warm days and cold nights are the primary factors in causing leaves to change color. During the day the plant carries on the process of making sugar, called photosynthesis. This process does not go on at night because sunlight is essential for it. A high sugar content in

Mr. Main Revises His Course in Acting 61

Mr. Main of the speech and dramatic department announced this week the subject matter for his Acting 61 course was being revised for the winter quarter. He believes the new revisions will make the course more interesting, and will more fully train speech teachers in activities for which there has been felt a need in the past. These activities include work in preparing and reading play cuttings from modern popular plays and practice in characterizations.

After taking this course, a student should be prepared to present an individual program. Also, an added attraction for taking the course is the new text books and play copies which are available for this course.

Those interested in securing further information should contact Mr. Main.

Miss Isley Gives First of Series of Faculty Recitals

Plays Chopin "Sonata in B flat minor, Opus 35" as Second Group.

The first of the 1941-42 faculty music recitals was that given by Miss Alice M. Isley, pianist, Tuesday evening. In a program of three groups, this new member of the Conservatory of Music faculty displayed her versatility in music ranging from Rameau, an eighteenth century composer, to Ernest Toch, a modernist, now writing for Hollywood-made pictures.

The first group of numbers, all by Jean Philippe Rameau, included the "Cyclops," "Calls of the Birds," and the "Gavotte and Variations." These descriptive titles indicate the composer's attraction to the dramatic; in fact, Rameau was the author of several musical stage productions. He can, therefore, be considered a Pre-Romanticist in the use of descriptive elements. In listening to Rameau's music one gains most by an appreciation of the instrument for which the music was composed, i. e., the harpsichord, a predecessor of the modern piano. Since the harpsichord had no sustaining pedal, music for the instrument required that both hands be kept in busy order to produce any kind of legato, always a distinct feat, even with a modern instrument. The pianist of the evening gave a fresh and invigorating reading to the music of Rameau, thus aiding one's understanding of the period in which it was written.

Plays Chopin Sonata
The second division of the program was devoted entirely to Chopin's "Sonata in B flat minor, Opus 35." In this music Miss Isley established herself as being a truly sympathetic and understanding interpreter of the music of Chopin, traditionally known as the "poet of the piano." Whereas the average sonata contains an architectural re-semblance of the various movements to the whole, the "Sonata in B flat minor" is more like a suite, of less cohesiveness.

Chopin was as ardent a Polish nationalist of the nineteenth century as has been the nineteenth century in the twentieth century. His music regaled (Continued on Page Three)

Dr. J. W. Jones Attends Meeting at University

Last Monday Dean J. W. Jones attended the quarterly meeting of Teachers College Conference Group at Chicago. The Group is made up of representatives from 15 teachers colleges in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Missouri. Each quarter the conference meets with Dr. William Gray at the University of Chicago.

At the morning program Dean Jones discussed, "Proposals for Studies of the Five Year Curriculum for Secondary School Teachers."

The afternoon program was concerned with problems relating to reading. Reading problems in college was considered a major problem by all those present.

A discussion group has recently been instituted in this college to deal with reading on the campus. The Group is led by Miss Dora B. Smith.

College Has Paintings Showing New England

Miss DeLuce of the Fine Arts department calls the attention of those who were interested in Dr. Atwood's paintings of New England to the paintings of that section of the United States that are owned by the College. Those paintings are on display in Social Hall and Miss DeLuce urges the students to view them again since seeing Dr. Atwood's pictures.

The paintings of New England include a vivid study of autumn foliage in "Autumn," by Auburn Nichols, president of the National Academy of Design; "Fishing Boats in Gloucester Harbor," by Kathryn Cherry of Missouri; and "Surf," by Frederick Vaughn, who made his summer home on Cape Cod.

Miss DeLuce herself painted a number of studies of New England scenes last summer in the country mentioned by Dr. Atwood.

Geographer Shows New England Films

Dr. Atwood Speaks Before College Assembly at Two, Wednesday.

Speaking before the regular assembly, held this week at two o'clock on Wednesday instead of ten as usual, Dr. Wallace Atwood, president of Clark University and director of graduate courses in geography, talked upon "The Birthplace of American Industry." He was introduced by Dr. Carol V. Mason of the geography department of the College, a former pupil of his.

Dr. Atwood began with a bird's-eye view of New England the birthplace of industry. He called attention to the hilly character of the country and the types of soil and pointed out the fact that this section of the country was abundantly supplied with water-power. The short growing season makes it more necessary that the people of New England turn to manufacturing. He called attention to the apple, blueberry, and cranberry areas, using maps to show them making it clear that soil was the determining factor in their location.

The inventive genius of the Yankees is remarkable. Dr. Atwood thinks. He pointed out examples, as that of the young man who makes finer fishing poles than anybody else makes.

The latter half of Dr. Atwood's program consisted of motion pictures of New England. He made running comments as the pictures were shown.

After the lecture, Dr. and Mrs. Atwood were guests at a tea given in Recreation Hall by the faculty.

High Schools of District May Secure Films on Contract Basis.

Sixty Different Films

Sound Projector and Beaded Glass Screen Will Give Theater Quality Showings.

A $3,000 moving picture library has been added to the equipment of the college. Sixty different films, representing a wide range of subject matter, are included in the library.

The College will serve as an exchange agency, sending out the films to high schools in the Northwest Missouri district on a contract basis. The films are for the use of college students also, and have been selected by various instructors for class showings.

In charge of contracts and distribution of films will be Mr. Leslie Somerville. "It is a big thing," said Mr. Somerville in speaking of the service the College will give to the high schools which will avail themselves of the opportunity to secure this visual aid to education.

Mr. M. C. Cunningham, director of the Horace Mann school, said selections were made after carefully checking with state courses of study in order to make the project a visual supplement to these studies.

A new sound projector and a new beaded glass screen which gives the highest type of reflection will produce "theater quality" showings here at the college. Mr. J. Norvel Saylor, who is in charge of the technical end of the films, explained. The screen will be 9 x 12 feet in size, which is unusually large for a screen of this particular type.

"The fruits will be as soon as the new screen arrives, Mr. Saylor said. It will take twelve hours to show them all, but the plan is to divide the time into six showings of two hours each. Every faculty member who has requested a film will be on hand for the pre-view.

All of the films are produced by the Epi Film Company, reputed to be among the best producers of educational films in the country. The subjects follow:

Children of Switzerland; Children of China; Planters of Colonial Virginia; People of Mexico; Argentina; Brazil; Chile; Peru; People of Hawaii; Transportation; Shelter; Clothing; Conservation of Natural Resources; Safety in the Home; The Wheat Farmer; The Corn Farmer; The Truck Farmer; The Cattleman; Science and Agriculture.

Art Club Party Has Storm for Backdrop

The Art Club met Monday night in the Student Lounge in the form of a Halloween party for the new members. It was indeed a dark and stormy night. The ghost stories were told to the rhythm of the patter of rain with a rumbling undertone of thunder. Flashes of lightning high lighted the scenes.

There followed a discussion of spiritualism. One member of the Art Club told of a person she knew who communes with souls which have "passed on". The ability to do this is a divine gift, he claims; therefore he will not commercialize it. However he charges $25 a "trance".

By deep concentration, timed breathing and cooperation the group was able to move various members of the Art Club in any direction it "willed" to move her or him as the case happened to be.

The Spirits of contemporary artists as well as the spirits of artists of older schools were called forth this stormy night that members of the Art Club might converse with them. Miss DeLuce, sponsor of the Art Club, had the unusual experience of talking with her own spirit.

The Student Lounge was decorated with jack-o-lanterns, black cats with green eyes, witches, owls, and a laughing skeleton.

Spiced tea, salted nuts and doughnuts were served from an attractive tea table with yellow and orange fall flowers arranged as a centerpiece. Miss DeLuce poured.

Those in charge of committees were: hostesses, Martine, Goldner and Bender; refreshments, Marcelline Wiley; program, Electa Bender.

Who made that delicious spiced tea? "Miss Mildred Goldner!"

The next meeting of Art Club is the third Monday in November.

Residence Hall Women Initiate

Upperclass Students Ask Freshmen to Party in Living Room.

This year instead of the initiating of the freshmen and the new girls at Residence Hall, the upperclassmen compromised and decided to have a pajama party. The party was organized by the upperclassmen and the program was furnished by the freshmen.

The party was held in the living room of the dormitory before an open fireplace. The party began at 10:30 and while the crowd was gathering, dancing took place and marshmallows were toasted over the fire. After the crowd had gathered the program began with Helen Adams acting as Master of Ceremonies.

The program consisted of twirling exhibitions by Jimmie Lou Anderson and Lois Jean Burch, a song and dance by Beverly Blagg and Connie Curmatt, a number by a trio composed of Janice Jordan, Anna Jean Dorson, and Vivian Craig, and several impromptu numbers including poems, songs, and pantomimes.

After the program refreshments were served by the upperclassmen. Nadine Allen, Betty Drennan, and Betty Gay were on the refreshment committee and Peggy Cunningham was general chairman.

This party was such a success that it may become an annual affair as initiation.

Dinner Guests Stress Good Manners at Quad

Miss Isley Gives First of Series of Faculty Recitals

lary reflects melodic and rhythmic folk elements of his native Poland. Although the Sonata heard contains no hint of nationalism in its title, it is well known that this extremely emotional music was called forth by the struggle for independence in Poland. Of course, containing as it does the famous "Funeral March" as its third movement, the Sonata is in reality an elegy on Poland's nineteenth century downfall at the hands of her enemies.

Few sonatas call for greater physical endurance, this one in particular calling for gigantic crescendos and much else of an intensely dramatic nature. Miss Isley so guardedly controlled the dynamics that her playing of the stormy "Scherzo" was wonderfully effective in its masculinity and verve. In the well-known "Funeral March," played with sincere artistry, one felt that he was viewing once again the ashes of a fallen Poland.

Third Group Shows Variety

For her final group, Miss Isley chose to play the Liszt "Etude de Concert in F minor," Brahms' "Capriccio in F minor," Debussy's "La Terrasse des Audiences du Clair de Lune," and Tsch's "The Juggler." Here again, as in the whole of the program, the artist displayed a catholicity of taste. Each composer was approached with an appreciation for his style, and thus was provided music of much variety on intent and expression.

A highly appreciative audience was rewarded with an encore in the form of Liszt's "Liebestraum." Northwest Missouri State Teachers College is to be congratulated for having Miss Isley as a member of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music, where she specializes in the teaching of children's piano.

Miss Stella Martin has begun work as teacher of the first grade in the Eugene Field school. She succeeds Mrs. Lloyd Oliver, the former Miss Elizabeth Turner, who resigned at the time of her marriage.

Miss Norene Mallory of King City spent Monday at the College, the guest of Miss Evelyn Piper of the faculty of the Horace Mann Laboratory School.

Let's Go Mummifying!

In Anaconda, Montana, Halloween is celebrated in an extremely fascinating way. Everywhere from 9 to 12 p. m. people in strange ghostly costumes go from door to door "mummifying."

Someone knocks at your door, you open it and there on your doorstep one or more skeletons, clowns, witches, or what-have-you stand with outstretched hands as "mum as mummies". It is your duty to have pop-corn, candy, nuts, or some little favor to place in the outstretched hands. If you haven't prepared something (which happens very rarely), the "mummies" are entitled to place you on their black list and the following morning you are very likely to find your gate soaked, your windows soaped, or some equally exasperating trick performed while you slept.

By twelve o'clock everyone is ready to go home and display his spoils or to divide with those who for some reason or other couldn't go "mummifying".

Not only children take part in this quaint old custom but often a masquerade party older boys and girls, men and women, may "go mummifying". Everyone has loads of fun trying to determine another's identity.

The oldest inhabitants say they always went "mummifying" when they were younger and still look forward to their hundreds of Halloween guests each year.

Winston Churchill Is Noted for His English

Mr. Churchill has built his oratory on the surest of all foundations, a superb command of the English language. How he acquired it is a curious story and one that Mr. Churchill loves to tell himself.

"At 13," he enjoys reminding his hearers, "I passed into the bottom of the bottom form of Harrow and remained there for a year. This gave me a splendid advantage over the brighter boys. You see, while the others were earning Latin and Greek, we dunces were taught only English. So I really got a good grasp on English construction, which is a very fine thing to know."

I can see him now, pacing slowly up and down the room, his hands clasped behind his back, his shoulders hunched, his head sunk forward in deep thought, slowly and haltingly dictating the beginning of a speech or an article. I wait, my pencil poised in mid-air, as he whispers phrases to himself, carefully weighing each word and striving to make his thoughts balance. Nothing may be put down until it has been tested aloud and found satisfactory. A happy choice brings a glint of triumph to his eyes; a poor one is instantly discarded. He will continue the search until every detail of sound, rhythm, and harmony is to his liking. Sometimes there are long halts, during which he patiently sounds out a phrase a dozen times, this way and that.

Vivian Craig joined her parents in St. Joseph Saturday and spent the day shopping. She returned to Residence Hall Saturday evening.

Gilbert Ryder, Harold Johnson, Jim Phillips, and Becky Claybaugh attended the Missouri-Iowa State football games at Ames, Iowa, Saturday.

God of richness;
Be not niggardly—
Give me words for autumn—
Words "proud" and flaunting for red of oaks;
A tone of mellow opulence for gold of poplars;
Shape my lips to
Vigorous stately syllables for the towering pines;
And some idiom full of ancient fragrance
For the spicy scent of their needles.

Grant me
A comfortable Saxon word for the heavy boughs of the cedar;
A hale and blustering utterance for the wind that twists them;
Some Gallic accents gay and debonaire for the acorns;

Mystic, worshipful phrases

Freshman Peters Scores First as Totorattis and Schmagel
Provide Blocking.

Maryville's Bearcats defeated Rolla 20-7 last Saturday afternoon on the Miner's wet field putting the Maryville team in a second place tie with Kirksville in the MIAA conference standings. Throughout the whole game the Bearcats made many long gains and pushed the Rolla Miners over the field.

Rolla received the starting kick-off but after only one line play made a quick punt to Maryville who returned the ball to the 50 yard line. Peters carried the ball and with the splendid assistance of Schmagel and Totorattis, who provided the interference, Peters scampered across the goal line for the Bearcats' first touchdown. Gregory's attempted conversion failed.

After an exchange of punts, Rolla intercepted a Maryville pass and returned it to the Bearcat one-foot line. For four plays the Miners stabbed at the unyielding Bearcat line and lost the ball to the Bearcats, who promptly kicked into safer territory.

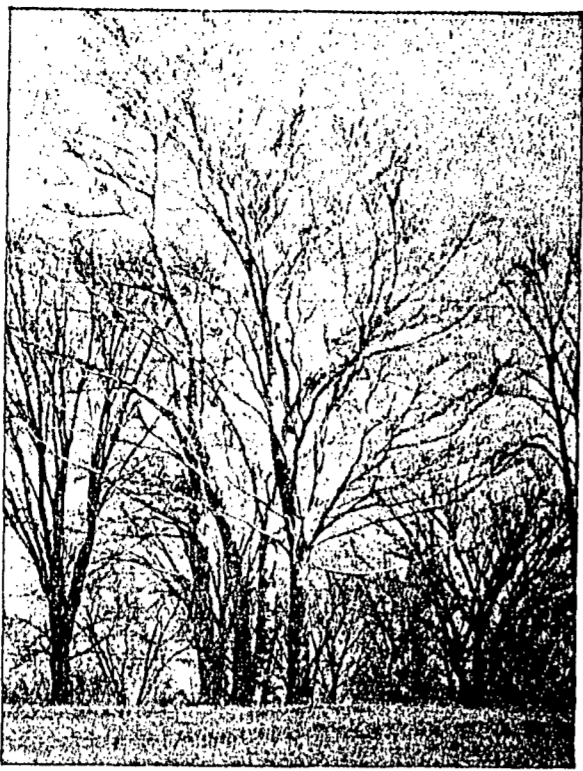

Maryville's second touchdown came in the third quarter. Maryville held the ball at the 38 yard-line on the fourth down and two yards to make when Padilla passed to Captain Schottel, after two laterals Fletcher was pulled down on the three-yard line. Schottel smashed through the Rolla line to score on the next play. Gregory made a good kick for the extra point giving the Bearcats a lead of 13-0.

Then in the fourth quarter the Bearcats scored again, this time from a pass by Schottel to Wilson which netted 50 yards. On the same play Wilson lateraled to Padilla, who sped 15 yards more to score. Gregory's kick was again successful.

Rolla's only score came on the last play of the game. After having completed a pass for 35 yards, Wellmuenster sneaked over the scoring stripe. After completing the extra point kick the game ended—Maryville 20, Rolla 7.

Coach Ryland Milner used twenty-nine men in the game with an entire second team on the field for Maryville in the last few minutes of playing.

Frank "Spec" Myers, regular Bearcat end, received a serious shoulder injury during the fourth quarter of the game and will probably remain off the squad for the rest of the season. Schmagel also received a slight injury but is expected to be ready for more play tonight, at Rockhurst. Another regular player, Victor Farrel, a tackle, after sustaining a sprained ankle in the Springfield game injured his other ankle in practice and will not be able to play for some time.

NATURE'S ETCHING

FRANK "SPECK" MYERS

On account of an injury "Speck" will be out of action for some time. His end position on the Bearcat team will be hard to fill.

Bearcats-Hawks Meet Tonight on Rockhurst Field

Kansas City Eleven Is Coached by Former
Notre Dame Star.

Tonight the Bearcats play the Rockhurst Hawks, of Kansas City. The Hawks have won two out of four games this fall against stiff competition. They won against Warrensburg 6-0, and against William Jewell 21-6.

The Hawks are coached by a former Notre Dame star Jack Hayes, who is spending his first year at Rockhurst.

Greatest threat to enemy victories on a soggy field is light Wilbur (small fry) Fry. This little 145 pounder averaged 12 and 15 yards on his runback of punts against the charging linemen of St. Ambrose and was constantly chalking up his share of yardage thru the line.

Greatest of all were Scanlon and Johnny Mitchell. For sixty grueling minutes Scanlon held the Bees on his end as he stopped play after play and sparked his team on to a brilliant defense under the superior fire. Mitchell broke his finger early in the game and after a few minutes rest was again on the gridiron, there to remain until the final whistle sounded.

Probable starting line-up for Rockhurst will be ends, Scanlon and Callahan, tackles, Neath and Carr, guards, Fagin and Broyles, center, Wood, quarterback, Mitchell, half, Kelly and Scrubby, and fullback, Steck. The Hawks offensive hasn't had any dry ground to unleash its blows, the last three games have been on wet turfs, and then noted aerial assault has been seriously hampered.

Outnumbered three to one, slightly outwitted, and outplayed, the Hawks fought grimly on to save face with a last quarter touchdown against St. Ambrose last Sunday and proved for a few minutes that they were dangerous opponents to that powerful squad though the starters had practically been playing the full length of the game.

Advanced Dance Group Works on New Numbers

Despite a warm rainy evening, the majority of the Advanced Dance Group came to rehearsal Tuesday night to continue their study of the dance. Some work on Waltz Triste seemed appropriate as it was not too strenuous for such a warm evening. Later the group worked on the creation of movements for the Coventry Carol, a lullaby which is to be used at the annual hanging of the greens at Residence Hall. The expression of the act of "creating dancing is slow but interesting" seemed to be the general opinion concerning the work.

The club had made plans for a party at the next meeting, but this had to be postponed because of a conflicting party of another organization which will be held at that time. Therefore a regular meeting of the group will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:00 in the Gym.

Duck-Shooting Is On

Mr. Lon E. Wilson, Quad supervisor, departed early last Thursday morning for Rockport, where he put in a morning of shooting (at) ducks. Along with Mr. Wilson on the excursion were Messrs. Dieterich, Davis, and Richard Henderlitter, coach at Rockport High School. All in all the expedition was fairly successful with Mr. Wilson and Mr. Davis dividing eight of the quacking fowls.

Spaniard Introduces Pop-eye to Freshman

(By Associated Collegiate Press)
Popeye has attained academic respectability. Students at Rockford, Illinois College are learning to sing about the exploits of the sailor man in Spanish. The tune found its way into the curriculum through the help of Professor Nicolas Peres, who first heard the song in his native Spanish home, and then found it equally popular in Venezuela, where he lived for two years before coming to this country.

The "Popeye" jingle is part of Peres' direct method of introducing Spanish to first-year students. A fourteenth century folk song is also in the repertoire of the Spanish students and during the year their instructor plans to teach the girls other songs of particular dialects used in different sections of Spain.

The Horace Mann Cubs, playing the only football game in Maryville this week, take on Westboro in the 275 six-man league at 2:15 o'clock Friday afternoon at the college field.

The Cubs, with two men who may not be in shape to start, will be running up against one of the tough teams of the league when they hit Westboro. Westboro has dropped only one game this season, to the league-leading Fairfax, and have a team built around a fullback, Boyd Nuckolls. Nuckolls in the game last week did practically all the ball-carrying for Westboro. He is fast, a hard tackler and a good passer.

Gametime Friday may find two Cubs on the bench. Tommy Surplus has an injured shoulder and Byrd Thompson has four jammed fingers on one hand.

Starting lineup for the Cubs will probably be Thompson or Harold Hall at center; Baker and Kinman or Sherlock at ends; Bob Burks at quarterback; Jack Dieterich at halfback; and Surplus or Courtney at fullback.

Hollis Holt and Bette Townsend spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Warren Townsend of Savannah and other relatives.
